PREDICT RUMPUS OVER MINORITY LEAGUE REPORTS

League Of Nations Plank To Parties To Create Stir.
"NO LEAGUE" CLAUSE
Borah Will Insist On Establishment Of Anti Treaty Issue.

Washington, May 14.—Minority reports on the League of Nations plank will be submitted to both the Democratic and Republican conventions, leaders of the two parties forecast today, while around these reports the biggest rumpuses in the recent history of either party were predicted.

That Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, 'irreconcilable' opponent of the league, will be on the committee of resolutions and will help frame the Republican platform at Chicago is considered a certainty, and backed by other supporters of Senator Hiram Johnson, he will fight like a bearcat against any endorsement of the treaty of Versailles as amended by Senator Lodge's or other reservations.

Senator Borah will insist upon a "no league" plank in the G. O. P. platform and unless he and his fellow "bitter enders" get what they want, the least that is expected of them is a spanking minority report which on the floor of the convention will be the signal for a touch-and-go battle between the Johnsonians and the middle-of-the-roads, the outcome of which no one here is willing to prophesy.

Bryan on Committee
William J. Bryan will be the Borah of the San Francisco caucus. He too, in all human probability, will be on the platform committee of his party and in his turn, will head a ferocious charge against the advocates of the Wilsonian league in an attempt to secure a "league-on-the-best-terms-possible" plank in the Democratic platform.

Failing in this, his friends declare Bryan will almost surely dictate a scathing minority report and take the fight to the floor of the convention.

What will happen there is best answered by a huge question mark. So Democrats concede.

Republicans declare the middle-of-the-roads of their party—those favoring a league with reservations of the Lodge order—will win out at Chicago, while Democrats are confident the followers of President Wilson will defeat Bryan and anti-administration members of the platform committee. But members of both sides admit they do not believe either Borah or Bryan will drop the fight there.

RAINBOW DIVISION HOLDS REUNION OF ITS MEMBERS

Columbus, O., May 14.—The first annual reunion of Ohio rainbow division veterans, who, as members of the 166th infantry, fought in the recent world war overseas, opened here today.

This morning hundreds of former soldiers registered and were assigned to "billetts." The program this afternoon included company reunions, a brief business session and a parade, headed by the old regimental band. The veterans ball tonight will be preceded by speeches by Governor Cox, Brigadier General Hough and others. The penitentiary minstrels, directed by Captain Henry Grave, will entertain the veterans while a number of young girls will go through special dances during intermissions at the ball.

POLES DEMAND DISARMAMENT

Washington, May 14.—The Polish government is reported to have sent a note to the allies demanding the immediate disarmament of the Germans as the result of clashes between Poles and Germans in Upper Silesia, according to a dispatch received here today from Warsaw. The Warsaw dispatch declared that reports are current that the Germans are secretly transporting troops into Upper Silesia. The French are guarding the Polish consulate at Opel.

Chicago, May 14.—The bandit who robbed the "New Orleans limited" early today and who was slain afterward in a spectacular battle with the Chicago police, was identified as Royal Walton, a postal clerk carrying badge No. 4651. He was 30 years old and is believed to have come from St. Joseph, Mo., recently.

Chicago, May 14.—Boarding the mail coach of the Illinois Central railroad "New Orleans limited" early today, a bandit tied the hands of the five mail clerks working in the car, rifled the registered pouches of gold and currency estimated at $500,000 packed the loot in a satchel and escaped.

Half an hour later a man believed to be the bandit was stopped by two policemen at a street corner in the Hyde Park residence section of Chicago and a revolver battle followed in which he was shot dead and one of the policemen, William A. Roberts, was wounded, probably fatally.

A satchel carried by the slain man was taken to a police station where it was found to contain dozens of packages of bills of big denomination.

NEW METHOD.
The bandit instituted a new method in train robbing. Instead of forcing the engineer to stop the train at the point of a revolver, in the time honored wild west fashion, he boarded the train at Gilman, Ill., as a pullman passenger.

Just before the train pulled into Kankakee, Ill., he left his seat and went forward through the train.

"I'm the inspector," said the stranger reassuringly, stepping into the mail coach and reached in his pocket as though to produce credentials. Instead he whipped out a blue steel revolver and pointed it at the clerks.

Then the "gentleman traveler" forced four of the clerks to lie down beneath a sorting table. The fifth he compelled to bind their hands behind their backs, while he nonchalantly stood by and superintended the jobs. Then he served the fifth clerk in like fashion.

ESCAPES FROM TRAIN.
Discarding what he did not want from the pouches, the bandit selected packages containing fortunes in gold and currency, dumping these into a grip owned by one of the mail clerks.

Thirty minutes later policeman Roberts, while walking his beat met Policeman John Kendricks, and the two strolled along together. In a few moments they encountered a man carrying a satchel, and Roberts decided to investigate. They noticed that the man kept his hand in his right hand coat pocket, where there was a suspicious bulge.

"What have you got there?" asked Policeman Roberts.
Two shouts of flame belched from the bandit's pocket. Roberts fell to the ground. The bandit leaped to an arway and continued to fire. Dropping to the ground, Kendricks drew his revolver and fired over his comrade's body, wounding the robber. Dropping the grip containing his loot, the bandit ran through the arway, leaving a trail of blood behind him.

Fifty detectives were rushed to the scene. The bandit was traced to his apartment in 51st Street, where he was killed in a revolver duel.

AMERICAN FLAG PRESENTED TO LEGION BY W. R. C. THURSDAY

A large and beautiful American flag was the gift of the Women's Relief Corps to Joseph P. Foody, Post No. 95, of the American Legion, at the meeting of the latter organization Thursday night in the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. C. W. Linkhart, Patriotic Instructor of the W. R. C. made the presentation speech and Ohmer Tate, Post Commander of the American Legion, responded for that organization.

Dr. B. R. McClellan, representing the American Legion spoke briefly, as did Oliver Whitson, Commander of Lewis Post, G. A. R., which organization was also represented at the presentation ceremony. John W. Hedges of the G. A. R. in a brief talk referred to the annual Memorial Day exercises which would soon be turned over entirely to the American Legion to carry on.

A business meeting of the American Legion followed during which a report of the entertainment committee in regard to plans for an American Legion Festival to be held here was received. The decision as to whether the local Post will arrange for such a Festival or not will be left to the executive committee of the organization.

ATTEMPTS ASSASSINATION.

London, May 14.—An unsuccessful attempt was made by a policeman to assassinate Grand Vizier Damad Ferid Pasha at his official residence in Constantinople, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from that city today. An attendant was wounded. The assassin was arrested.

RESIDENTS PROTEST AGAINST CITY ABANDONING PAVING 2ND STREET

Petition Presented To the City Commission Thursday Night.

An investigation as to whether the city can get help in paving the extreme end of West Second street from the two mile road levy allowed the County Commissioners in the same manner that the County Commissioners assisted in the East Main street paving was decided upon at the City Commission meeting Thursday night, following the presentation of a petition by Frank McCurran, of West Second street, signed by 67 residents of the section protesting against the abandonment of paving plans on West Second street from Scott street to the Corporation line.

West Second street was to be paved from the end of the present paving at the Second street bridge to the corporation line, according to the bond issue for the city's share voted on some time ago, and while no action has been taken officially to stop the paving plans at Scott street instead of continuing to the corporation, it was learned that an abandonment of that end of the paving was in order. It was explained by the City Manager that much of the property along the street would not stand the assessment, that it would cost the city $5,500 more and that one man who owned about 1600 feet on the street, would be financially ruined by the extension of paving on the street.

Mayor Whalen brought up the question of whether it had ever been officially decided to abandon that part of the paving program, and he claimed that he had never heard that it was to be abandoned. It was suggested by City Solicitor Finney that the city may secure help from the county commissioners through the two mile road levy, to assist in paving the extreme end of the street to the line of the corporate limits and an investigation will be made to see if the paving cannot be completed in that way.

BRITISH FORCES TO BE SAFEGUARDED

London, May 14.—Conference between Lord French, the lord lieutenant of Ireland, and members of the government on Irish policy were resumed today.

Lord Birkenhead, the Lord chancellor gave assurances that all of the British forces in Ireland will be safeguarded. English recruits are being sent to Dublin and are being trained at Phoenix Park.

Official denial is made of the report that the Irish question will be submitted to the people in a general election.

COURT HOUSE BURNED.

Dublin, May 14.—The court house at Cashel, the finest in County Tipperary, was burned today. A crowd surrounded the building before the torch was applied.

SEEKS INJUNCTION AGAINST TAXATION BY CONSERVANCY

Columbus, O., May 14.—The state supreme court today was asked by Alexander W. Hawthorne, of Troy, to enjoin the Miami Conservancy District corporation, the B. & O. railway company and the Dayton power and Light company, Dayton, from levying, assessing, or demanding money, by taxation or assessment, from the city of Troy.

Claiming that Troy's bonded indebtedness is greater than allowed by law and that payment of the money would irreparably injure the city, Hawthorne, also, asked the court to reverse the judgement of the Miami County appellate court and to enjoin Troy from raising or loaning money, or its credit, to the conservancy corporation and the two companies.

Hawthorne claims the conservancy corporation has assessed Troy $822,000 and levied $417,000 upon that city in connection with the corporation's construction of dam and power sites to be leased, sold or assigned to the Dayton company, and in connection with the building of over 20 miles of tracks, sidings and bridges for the B. & O. in Hamilton, Butler, Warren, Montgomery, Miami and Shelby counties.

EIGHTY LOSE LIVES IN CLOUDBURST

Lincoln, Neb., May 14.—At least eight people lost their lives in a cloudburst Tuesday near Ardmore, South Dakota, just across the Nebraska state line, according to a belated dispatch from Alliance, Neb., received this morning. One entire family of five were drowned while trying to escape from their home to higher ground. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. F. Darby were found lodged against trees, 200 feet from their house today. The body of a daughter Frances, was found two miles away. The bodies of the two sons have not been located. Three homesteaders are reported missing and their cabins washed away by the flood.

ADDRESS OPENS OHIO CONVENTION

Columbus, O., May 14.—An address by Professor C. Miller, of Case, is scheduled for this afternoon at the annual convention of the Ohio academy of sciences which opened at Ohio State University today. Professor Miller is to talk on photographic sound waves from large guns and projectiles. The academy includes students of zoology, botany, geology, physics, medical science and physiology.

To have them ready for possible emergencies in the Mexican situation, the war department recently dispatched a detachment of U. S. marines from the League Island navy yard, Philadelphia, to southern waters. The U. S. S. Oklahoma, conveying the troops, will go first to Key West and then to Havana.

CARRANZA FORCES ARE DRIVEN FROM COVER IN TERRIFIC BATTLE

Rebels Inflict Losses of 3,000 On Federal Troops In Fight.

CHIEF SPURNS OFFER Refuses Chance Of Personal Safety To Give Up.

El Paso, Texas, May 14.—Deposed President Carranza, spurning offers guaranteeing his personal safety if he will surrender and an escort to Vera Cruz should he wish to leave Mexico, is still doggedly resisting capture, defended by a small body-guard, near Rinconada in the foothills of Orizaba volcano, according to a message from General Obregon received by the rebel agents here early today.

General Obregon stated that Carranza has been surrounded by rebel forces since Sunday.

Vera Cruz, May 14.—Revolutionary troops under General Guadalupe Sanchez and General Trevino that are attacking the Carranza forces near San Marcos have made gains, driving the Carranzistas from their positions, and inflicting losses of nearly 3,000, according to unconfirmed reports from the fighting front today.

As a result of terrific attacks, the Carranza troops were said to have been driven from their positions and are now making stubborn resistance at the Hacienda de Tamariz in the state of Puebla.

The revolutionary army is attempting an encircling movement to surround the Carranzistas. The revolutionaries number about 16,000 while Carranza was said to have only about 5,000 or 6,000 soldiers.

In revolutionary circles it was said that news of the surrender of the Carranzistas was expected hourly. It is believed that safe conduct will be granted to Carranza so that he can come to this port and embark upon a ship for some foreign port.

Certain of Victim
The revolutionists are so certain of final victory that they permitted General Candido Aguila, son in law of the former first chief, to go to the scene of the San Marcos fighting and confer with him. Aguilar had been in command of a detachment of federal troops that were fighting the revolutionaries.

Pelipe Sanchez Carranza, a nephew of Venustiano Carranza and one of the best aviators in the federal army, is reported to have committed suicide after being captured by rebel troops in the state of Tlaxcala.

The airman opened fire while flying over rebel positions. When the fire was returned the airplane was hit and it fell to the ground. Carranza was not injured by the fall, but later he shot himself through the head with his service pistol. Word was received from Mexico City today that the revolutionary leaders have called a meeting to nominate a provisional president and to arrange for the regular presidential election. The revolution has been given an international element by the disappearance of John B. Body, the British consul in this city. Mr. Body left Mexico City for Vera Cruz on the same train that was bearing Carranza. He has not arrived and no word has been received from him.

The British charge d'affaires in Mexico City has asked General Obregon to make an investigation and the revolutionary chief has promised to do so.

British subjects in Mexico have asked that a British warship be sent to this port. It is understood that the British government has ordered one of its war vessels now in Bermuda to proceed to Vera Cruz at once.

RELEASE OF DEBS NOW PARAMOUNT AIM OF SOCIALISTS

New York, May 14.—With the nomination of Eugene V. Debs accomplished, the platform out of the way and a start made on the raising of a campaign fund, the socialists today were concentrating on one thing—how to get their candidate out of the Atlanta prison, where he is serving a ten year sentence.

From now on every socialist energy will be directed toward that one end. Everything else will be put into the background until the tall "Lincoln of the Wabash" is freed.

SOCIALIST PARTY FOR THINKERS IS DEBS' STATEMENT

Interview With Prisoner Nominee For President Made.

IS STRONG RADICAL Will Be "Candidate At Home In Retirement."

Atlanta, Ga., May 14.—The International News Service presents here the first interview with Eugene V. Debs, nominee of the socialist party for president of the United States and a prisoner in the Atlanta federal prison.

By authority of the department of justice, permission was granted a representative of the International News Service to visit Mr. Debs in prison where he is serving a sentence of ten years for seditious utterances. A man in prison clothes of faded denim, with a number to identify him as convict 2253, was talking as a candidate for president of the greatest republic. Apparently oblivious of the circumstances, he talked earnestly, precisely, with now and then a flash of humor, of the issues involved in the presidential campaign.

The interview was for 30 minutes, and was held under the eye of a prison guard who viewed the newspaperman without interest and who seemed concerned only with the hands of his watch.

APPEALS TO THINKERS.
"The socialist party," said Mr. Debs, "will appeal this year to men who think. Economic circumstances surrounding the average man will lead him into the socialist fold through sheer distrust of both the older political parties. Out of all our divisions and internal squabbles has come good, for we, the socialists, are unified and our principles are the precepts which the everyday man can understand and digest."

"Personally I am a radical. I have always been one. My only fear has always been that I might not be radical enough. In my own party I always lead the minority, but I hope to lead a united socialist party to the polls this fall. They are fighting within my own party today. It is a good healthy sign, the radicals keep the conservatives from giving away too much to popularize the movement. That is what killed the populist party. The leaders sought to popularize its political propaganda by pandering to more conservative elements. They lost the radical support of their party, which became the socialist party, and naturally the conservatives had no further use for them. To begin to placate your enemies is to invite decay."

"CANDIDATE TO RETIREMENT."
When Mr. Debs was questioned as to how he would conduct his campaign he laughed and said:

"I will be a candidate at home in retirement. It will be much less tiresome and my managers and opponents can always locate me. "This is different from the time when I was campaigning throughout the country followed by detectives and expecting heaven knows what. Now I am always in. My present location is for the next nine years."

"I am a traitor, no doubt, in the eyes of Attorney General Palmer and the department of justice, and perhaps some of the American people. But the words 'thou shalt not kill' mean to me just what they say. I would not kill in defense of my own life, and certainly would not for hire to someone else. Seventy per cent of the drafted men applied for exemption. They were forced to fight—forced to go out and kill—and why?"

RUSSIAN WIRELESS SILENT, CREATES STIR IN LONDON

London, May 14.—The Russian wireless, which ceased transmitting messages last Sunday, was still silent today. Numerous explanations were offered. General Frederick Maurice, former director of military operations at the war office in an interview printed by the Daily News, suggested that the Russians had stopped sending radiograms on orders from General Brusiloff, commander of the Bolshevik army.

A telegram from Ambrose Lambert, the Moscow correspondent of the Daily Express, which was filed on Monday, told of a series of terrific explosions near Moscow. It was suggested that these explosions, which were attributed by the soviet to Polish spies, have damaged the wireless plant.

The national convention will adjourn here late today and reconvene in Washington early tomorrow as a committee of the whole convention. The White House will be appealed to. Attorney General Palmer will be visited and Senators and representatives will be buttonholed to further the cause of Debs' liberation.

To the socialists Eugene V. Debs is more than a candidate. He is, as Irwin St. John Tucker, of Chicago, termed him, the embodiment of socialist principles. His name to socialists here is more magic even than that of Karl Marx. Debs' name was the only thing that could make the left wing, the right wing and the center forget their battles and join hands. Every ounce of pressure, political and otherwise, that can be brought to bear to effect his release, will be used in the next two months.

Atlanta, Ga., May 14.—The International News Service presents here the first interview with Eugene V. Debs, nominee of the socialist party for president of the United States and a prisoner in the Atlanta federal prison.

By authority of the department of justice, permission was granted a representative of the International News Service to visit Mr. Debs in prison where he is serving a sentence of ten years for seditious utterances.

A man in prison clothes of faded denim, with a number to identify him as convict 2253, was talking as a candidate for president of the greatest republic. Apparently oblivious of the circumstances, he talked earnestly, precisely, with now and then a flash of humor, of the issues involved in the presidential campaign.

The interview was for 30 minutes, and was held under the eye of a prison guard who viewed the newspaperman without interest and who seemed concerned only with the hands of his watch.

"APPEALS TO THINKERS."

"The socialist party," said Mr. Debs, "will appeal this year to men who think. Economic circumstances surrounding the average man will lead him into the socialist fold through sheer distrust of both the older political parties. Out of all our divisions and internal squabbles has come good, for we, the socialists, are unified and our principles are the precepts which the everyday man can understand and digest."

"Personally I am a radical. I have always been one. My only fear has always been that I might not be radical enough. In my own party I always lead the minority, but I hope to lead a united socialist party to the polls this fall. They are fighting within my own party today. It is a good healthy sign, the radicals keep the conservatives from giving away too much to popularize the movement. That is what killed the populist party. The leaders sought to popularize its political propaganda by pandering to more conservative elements. They lost the radical support of their party, which became the socialist party, and naturally the conservatives had no further use for them. To begin to placate your enemies is to invite decay."

"CANDIDATE TO RETIREMENT."

When Mr. Debs was questioned as to how he would conduct his campaign he laughed and said:

"I will be a candidate at home in retirement. It will be much less tiresome and my managers and opponents can always locate me."

"This is different from the time when I was campaigning throughout the country followed by detectives and expecting heaven knows what. Now I am always in. My present location is for the next nine years."

"I am a traitor, no doubt, in the eyes of Attorney General Palmer and the department of justice, and perhaps some of the American people. But the words 'thou shalt not kill' mean to me just what they say. I would not kill in defense of my own life, and certainly would not for hire to someone else. Seventy per cent of the drafted men applied for exemption. They were forced to fight—forced to go out and kill—and why?"

RUSSIAN WIRELESS

SILENT, CREATES STIR IN LONDON

London, May 14.—The Russian wireless, which ceased transmitting messages last Sunday, was still silent today. Numerous explanations were offered. General Frederick Maurice, former director of military operations at the war office in an interview printed by the Daily News, suggested that the Russians had stopped sending radiograms on orders from General Brusilov, commander of the Bolshevik army.

A telegram from Ambrose Lambert, the Moscow correspondent of the Daily Express, which was filed on Monday, told of a series of terrific explosions near Moscow. It was suggested that these explosions, which were attributed by the soviet to Polish spies, may have damaged the wireless plant.

AMERICAN NAVY FACED PROBLEM OF SUBMARINES

Washington, May 14.—Facing "innumerable obstacles" the United States placed an effective army on the battle front in France in a shorter time than did the British, Secretary of the Navy Daniels today told the senate sub-committee investigating charges made by Rear Admiral Sims against the conduct of the war by the navy department.

Quoting a report of Field Marshal Haig of the British forces Daniels declared "it will be observed that the British armies were unable to intervene until nearly two years had elapsed 'in sufficient strength adequately to assist our allies'." Daniels declared.

"The war was over not two years but nineteen months after the United States entered it."

"No man could deny that within 15 months after our entry the American army was in sufficient strength 'adequately to assist the allies'." Yet the American army had to be transported and supplied across 3,000 miles of ocean in the face of a supreme effort of the German submarine and then across the width of France, while Great Britain was within the sound of German guns," Daniels continued.

"Admiral Sims charges that due to the shortcomings of the navy there was an unnecessary loss of 2,333,000 tons of shipping, 500,000 lives and that the war was prolonged 'at least four months'." Daniels declared.

"The charge that the war was prolonged and that the loss of life resulted is serious. It was made with reckless disregard of the facts and the reasoning and statistics adduced in its support are those which one might expect to find in the fantastic tales of a Baron Munchausen or the statistics of a Colonel Mulberry Sellers. Even in making the charge he disregards his own facts."

"He was free to acclaim the small part the United States was taking. In his view, when he said but three, four, five or perhaps six per cent of the naval forces in European waters were American, but in charging blame the mistakes of the navy department are given as the 100 per cent reason for the prolongation of the war," Daniels declared.

EIGHTY LOSE LIVES IN CLODBURST

Lincoln, Neb., May 14.—At least eight people lost their lives in a cloudburst Tuesday near Ardmore, South Dakota, just across the Nebraska state line, according to a belated dispatch from Alliance, Neb., received this morning. One entire family of five were drowned while trying to escape from their home to higher ground. The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. F. Darby were found lodged against trees, 200 feet from their house today. The body of a daughter Frances, was found two miles away. The bodies of the two sons have not been located. Three homesteaders are reported missing and their cabins washed away by the flood.

JUDGE IS ASSIGNED TO GEO. SHEETS CASE

Judge R. L. Cameron of Union county, has been assigned by Chief Justice Hugh L. Nichols of the Ohio Supreme Court, to preside at the trial of former Clerk of the Courts George W. Sheets, on a charge of embezzlement, in the local common pleas court, June 1.

Judge Kyle requested Chief Justice Nichols to assign a foreign judge to his bench for the Sheets' trial. Judge Cameron is unknown here.

Professor Miller is to talk on photographic sound waves from large guns and projectiles. The academy includes students of zoology, botany, geology, physics, medical science and physiology.

BEAUTY CHATS

HAIR TONIC

To almost all the women who ask, "Do I need a hair tonic?" I answer "yes." For the use of a hair tonic never hurts, and at least nine women out of ten need some such outside stimulation for their hair.

There is one thing to be careful about in deciding upon the sort of hair tonic—do not purchase one containing too much alcohol. A certain amount of this is all right—even necessary to make the other ingredients combine well; but too much dries the hair and causes it to turn gray prematurely.

Certain things have been found to stimulate the activity of the cells from which grow the long silky hairs. Cantharides (a variety of fly, by the way) produces a slight irritation of the scalp—not enough to be felt, of course, only enough to stir the scalp into greater activity. Quinine is excellent in hair tonics. Sulphur is splendid for any skin trouble, therefore useful when dandruff is the trouble. Glycerine is drying, and splendid for oily hair, though it occasionally produces a gumminess which is not harmful, but not pleasant.

An excellent general tonic is made as follows:
Tincture cathartides, alcohol 1 ounce
Spirits of rosemary 1 1-2 ounces
Glycerine 1 1-2 ounces
Aromatic vinegar . . 1 1-2 ounces

Beautiful Hair is a Result of Tender Care

Rose water 3 ounces
Only a little of this—or any tonic—should be used. It should be applied with the finger tips along partings of the hair. This is the best way to avoid spreading the mixture on the hair rather than the scalp.

Kate G.—Can you swim? Swimming is fine for developing the bust; so are deep breathing exercises.

Morris H.—Hollow cheeks usually mean thinness, ill health or old age. If you are not in good physical condition, build yourself up and the face will fill out properly.

Hazel Eyes—Never use a depilatory powder on any part of the body but the arm pits or the legs. The hair will always come in again, but in these places that doesn't matter. Most prepared powders are good—a reliable store will sell only reliable goods, you know.

This is the Birthday of Gabriel Daniel Fahrenheit

by 14, 1686
Gabriel Daniel Fahrenheit was not the inventor of the thermometer, but he was the inventor of the Fahrenheit scale thermometer which is in general use in the United States and in England. He was a German who was born at Danzig, but he did not seem far the simplest.

to like his country for he spent most of his time in either England or Holland.

The events of his life contain nothing of unusual interest, for he devoted as much time as possible to the study of physics and made his living by manufacturing meteorological instruments. He invented several improvements in the construction of thermometers before he died, in Holland, in 1736.

Some time before Fahrenheit lived the great Galileo had invented an air thermometer which was not particularly satisfactory because it was affected by atmospheric pressure. About 1700 Sir Isaac Newton proposed a scale in which the freezing point of water was zero and the temperature of the human body was 12 degrees. To obtain finer graduations, this number was later raised to 96. After some experimentation, the boiling point of water was fixed at 212, the human temperature at 96 and freezing at 32. For some types of scientific work, the Fahrenheit thermometer is best; but for general purpose the centigrade system, with freezing at zero and boiling at 100, is far the simplest.

SECRET INDICTMENTS RETURNED BY JURY MAY AFFECT DAYTON

Dayton, O., May 14—Two secret indictments were returned yesterday by the federal grand jury, which, it has been said, has been probing war contracts connected with Dayton manufacturers. Persons in a position to know assert that a wealthy Chicagoan, who sublet a war contract from a large Dayton firm, has been indicted and that the name of a local manufacturer is mentioned.

According to stories current about the grand jury room, a fly-by-night Chicago manufacturer, whose plant consisted of three rooms, made liberal use of $100,000 obtained the sub-contract in Chicago. He bought a large tannery in Chicago and testimony said to have been made before the grand jury was to the effect that $317,000 profit had been made on one contract alone of $1,000,000.

One of the men indicted is pictured as an arch-conspirator, who involved innocent men unsuspectingly in his schemes. Charges made in the indictment are said to include employment of fake government inspectors, the paying of salaries all out of proportion, and excess profits.

"Of course, I cannot divulge the nature of the secret indictments returned by the grand jury," Special Assistant United States Attorney General Stuart Bolin said yesterday.

"The indictments are liable never to be made public, since legal procedure may tangle the prosecution and the trial of the men indicted never be held.

"If the trial is held it probably will be held in Dayton but no definite date can be set," Mr. Bolin concluded.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. RICHARDSON

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Richardson were held at the Reformed church Thursday afternoon and were in charge of the Rev. S. B. Yockey, of Springfield. The pallbearers were the two sons of the deceased; George Richardson, of Shell-creek, Iowa, and Walter Richardson, of Hutchison Kan.; W. J. Oglesbee, Raymond Wolf, John Watkins, and David Shank, of Dayton. Interment was made in Woodland.

Pepto-Mangan Increases and Enriches the Supply of Red Blood—Builds Strength

Restores Color and Appetite

Energy and Interest Soon Come With Red Blood

"I don't know why I should feel the way I do" is a remark often heard. A close look at the person who says this, will find signs of anemia or bloodlessness.

When the blood is thin and weak you do feel miserable. The simplest task seems too much for your strength and you get ashamed of your pale face and dull eyes.

Red blood makes the best complexion. It is red blood that puts roses in the cheeks, light in the eyes and spring in the walk.

To build up more red blood take Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan furnishes thin, watery blood with the necessary nourishment to enrich it, enabling it to supply energy, vitality, and strength to every part of the body.

Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan to patients suffering from anemia because its beneficial and lasting qualities are well known to the medical profession.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is obtainable in either liquid or tablet form. Both forms contain exactly the same strength and medicinal properties.

When you buy Pepto-Mangan of your druggist, be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. —Advertisement.

NEWSPAPER CASE SETTLED BY COURT FAVORS PLAINTIFF

Holding that the Cedarville Herald is not a newspaper of "general circulation" in Greene county, and that therefore, the publication would not fulfill the intent and purpose of the law, the Court of Appeals, in a decision just rendered found in favor of James A. Chew, business manager of the Evening Gazette and the Morning Republican in his suit against A. E. Faulkner, former auditor of Greene county.

Evidence given by Karl Bull, publisher of the Cedarville Herald, at a trial in common pleas court, and commented upon by the Court of Appeals in its decision, was to the effect that the Herald has a circulation of 401, of which 300 are distributed through the Cedarville postoffice locally, and by means of the ritual routes. One hundred copies are mailed to postoffices other than Cedarville. Fifty or sixty are mailed to Xenia. None are sent into either Sugarcreek or Beaver Creek townships. From one to eight or ten subscribers are located in each of the other townships.

"JUST ONE" AND IT'S ALWAYS DONE

"Just One" is the Name of the Only Laxative of Which Just One is Always the Right Dose.

Just one tablet of "Just One" is always a "just right" dose. The only laxative that never wears out, that gives the same result year in and year out, that your system does not become callous to and that never needs to have its dosage increased.

All other laxatives work well only until your system gets used to them. Then you must either get a different kind or increase the dose. With "Just One" you get an entirely different laxative at each dose, because each of the 20 similar looking tablets in each box is made of different laxative ingredients. Each is a tried and proved successful formula, each is thorough dependable and pleasant in action and each is different from the other 19. That's why they never wear out.

Quit pounding on one particular organ all the time. Use a laxative that works on the different organs each dose. Stir up your liver one time, your pancreas another, your lower bowel another, and so on, always changing. You'll get much better results and without harming your system as other single-formula laxatives harm it. Try this new, scientific way and you'll see why it is so much better.

Don't let the day pass without getting your box of "Just One." Any druggist anywhere can get "Just One" for you, or we will send it postpaid upon receipt of 25c per package. Ferritone Chemical Company, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

SECRET INDICTMENTS RETURNED BY JURY MAY AFFECT DAYTON

Dayton, O., May 14—Two secret indictments were returned yesterday by the federal grand jury, which, it has been said, has been probing war contracts connected with Dayton manufacturers. Persons in a position to know assert that a wealthy Chicagoan, who sublet a war contract from a large Dayton firm, has been indicted and that the name of a local manufacturer is mentioned.

According to stories current about the grand jury room, a fly-by-night Chicago manufacturer, whose plant consisted of three rooms, made liberal use of $100,000 and obtained the subcontract involved. He bought a large tannery in Chicago and testimony said to have been made before the grand jury was to the effect that $317,000 profit had been made on one contract alone of $1,000,000.

One of the men indicted is pictured as an arch-conspirator, who involved innocent men unsuspectingly in his schemes. Charges made in the indictment are said to include employment of fake government inspectors, the paying of salaries all out of proportion, and excess profits.

"Of course, I cannot divulge the nature of the secret indictments returned by the grand jury," Special Assistant United States Attorney General Stuart Bolin said yesterday.

"The indictments are liable never to be made public, since legal procedure may tangle the prosecution and the trial of the men indicted never be held.

"If the trial is held it probably will be held in Dayton, but no definite date can be set," Mr. Bolin concluded.

Pepto-Mangan Increases and Enriches the Supply of Red Blood—Builds Strength

Restores Color and Appetite

Energy and Interest Soon Come With Red Blood

"I don't know why I should feel the way I do" is a remark often heard. A close look at the person who says this, will find signs of anemia or bloodlessness.

When the blood is thin and weak you do feel miserable. The simplest task seems too much for your strength and you get ashamed of your pale face and dull eyes.

Red blood makes the best complexion. It is red blood that puts roses in the cheeks, light in the eyes and spring in the walk.

To build up more red blood take Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan furnishes thin, watery blood with the necessary nourishment to enrich it, enabling it to supply energy, vitality, and strength to every part of the body.

Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan to patients suffering from anemia because its beneficial and lasting qualities are well known to the medical profession.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is obtainable in either liquid or tablet form. Both forms contain exactly the same strength and medicinal properties.

When you buy Pepto-Mangan, of your druggist, be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan.

DEATH OF WILLIAM DEAN HOWELLS, NOTED LITERARY MAN, IN HIS 84th YEAR.

Because of a fellow feeling on account of his old age, and because much of his life he had been an Editor, and because of personal friendship, the death of William Dean Howells, at his home in New York, on Tuesday, was a cause of grief to me. He was a stalwart as a writer and had long been recognized as Dean of novelists in this country. We have seen the names of more than fifty of his books—a wonderful life work.

Mr. Howells was in the habit of passing the winters in Savannah, Ga., and three weeks ago, while there, he caught a severe cold that developed into influenza. He was taken to New York City to be near his son, John Meade Howells, architect, and his daughter, Mildred. Both were with him when he died.

Besides his son and daughter, Mr. Howells is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Achille Frechette, translator for the Canadian House of Commons, and Miss Aurelia Howells, also of Ottawa, and a brother, S. D. Howells, of Washington.

I have had the honor of having had several short handwritten letters from Mr. Howells in the last few years. In one of these, knowing that I was a few years his senior in age, he wrote: "I shall soon be where you are. Can't you wait there for me? What's your hurry?" The following is an extract from the last one to me dated DeSoto Hotel, Savannah, Ga., February 1st, 1920: "My next birthday is March 1st, when I hope to be 83. It is not 88, (alluding to my age) but the best I can do. It is seventy years since I went up to Xenia, from 'New Leaf Mills' set type on the Torchlight, but was too homesick to stay."

According to this, he was only thirteen years old when this occurred. He tells about it in one of his books. He had agreed to stay two weeks, but at the end of one had to go home, as he was "too homesick to stay."

The family had been living in Dayton, where his father broke down in a bookstore venture, and getting a brother to help, had gone out in the country, about a mile northeast from Ellbrook, built a grist mill and a log cabin, and because of turning over a new leaf in life's adventure called his mill the "New Leaf Mill." This "adventure" lasted a year or two of very strenuous existence on the part of his father's family, during which the boy had helped out on the old Xenia Torchlight, the successor of which, by accession in purchase, you are now reading from.

So, don't you see, Xenia Xcells in having once had as its sidents several men accorded later on as literary geniuses, Whitelaw Reed, William Dean Howells and Coates Kinney.

Mr. Howells's mind must have been running much on old age late, for it is only a few weeks since he gave us, in Harper's Magazine, a very charming article entitled "Eighty Years and After"—full of sensible thoughts on how one may put in the later years of a long life without becoming pessimistic. But for years has been his regular occupation to give us his most delightful "Editor's Easy Chair" in Harper's Magazine. We shall greatly miss this, we shall feel that something greatly worthwhile has been out of life.

William Dean Howells married Elinor G. Mead, of Vermont, in 1862, in Paris. For a while after his return to this country he lived in New York, contributing regularly to The Nation, and occasionally to the New York Tribune and Times. But this was only a short period, as in 1866 he went to Boston as associate editor of the Atlantic Monthly, under J. T. Fields, and in 1872, when Fields retired, became editor until the spring of 1880, when he resigned to have more time for writing. In 1912 Mr. Howells wrote of his connection with the "House of Harper" as editor, literary adviser and contributor.

William Dean Howells was a most voluminous writer. We have counted a list of over fifty books of his authorship. In early life he lived at Cambridge and there became acquainted with the noted literary men, Emerson, Hawthorne, Holmes and Lowell and through their influence was given the Counselship at Andover, which he held through the Civil War period. This made him like foreign life and he spent many years in Europe.

Mr. Howells's grandfather, Joseph Howells, a Welsh weaver, and his grandmother, an English Quakeress who kept her faith in her customs, in spite of her repudiation by the Quakers when she married "out of meeting," left the little Welsh village of Hay in 1808 for America. With them was their baby son, William Cooper Howells, William Dean's father. After roving about through New York state and Virginia a little they finally settled down in Ohio. That Quaker grandmother was, so far as is known, the best and finest of Mr. Howells's antecedents in the way of education and innate interest in literature and arts. She taught her son to read before he was four years old, and it was very probably due in some part to her that he became a printer, editor and owner of newspapers, as well as an Abolitionist.

Perhaps the most remarkable thing of all about Mr. Howells was that one never thought of him as a survivor of the past, a witness of America's early days, a friend of Lincoln's, but as a vivid and important part of the present. The adventures of William Dean Howells's mind within the last month or two were always of greater interest than any older adventures, whose chief charm might lie in their quaintness and their age, could have. "I don't seem able to get very far away from today," he said once when asked why he did not more often use early experiences in his books.—J. P. C.

Count de Lesseps disliked to have any of his family entertain silly superstitions. One morning at breakfast a beautiful Dresden teacup was broken. The countess was greatly distressed and she said:

"Now two more of the set will be broken; it always happens so," said the count, "as really to believe that two more will be broken?"

"I know it,"

"Then let us get it off our minds," he said. And taking two of the cups by the handles he dashed them together. The anger and dismay of the countess proved that she had not seriously held to her superstition. 12D 7890S 124356 7890S... 890S... 00

As the police recruit strolled along on his first turn of night duty, loud yells of "Fire!" rent the air. He bolted quickly to the spot and found a house well alight, with a man half hanging out of an upstairs window.

"Help! Help!" he yelled. "If I jump will you catch me?"

"Sure, an' Oi will!" replied the policeman readily.

So the man jumped, only to crash to the ground and lie there stunned. When, a few minutes later, he recovered consciousness, he looked up at the constable reproachfully, and murmured feebly:

"I thought you said you could catch me?"

"Begorra!" replied the Irishman, "Oi was only waiting for yez to bounce an' Oi'd have had yez!"

"Are you going to garden next summer?"

"Beyond a doubt," replied Mr. Crossbones. "I made such a heavy outfit for implements and fertilizer that I've got to protect my investment."

Marietta, O., May 13th, 1920—"I can truthfully say that Trutona is the best medicine I have ever taken in my life, and I'm positive I will live many years longer now, because of the benefits this true tonic has given me. I simply feel like a new man, in fact a whole lot younger." Such was the enthusiastic curative praise given Trutona a few days ago by S. H. Neese, 79 years old, and well known Marietta real estate agent who lives at 814 Front street.

"I am a veteran of the civil war," Mr. Neese says, and it was while in the service that I began to have trouble with my liver and kidneys. I've suffered more or less from this malady ever since, with terrible pains in my back and sides. I also had severe aches in my forehead and the back of my neck. What little food I was able to eat on account of a very poor appetite, would not digest properly, and which caused nasty spells of dizziness. I was usually constipated and was compelled to take a laxative most all of the time.

"Now I want to say to you, sir, since taking Trutona, I'm convinced that I will live past the four-score and ten year mark, and I want the world to know what this wonderful medicine has done for me. All of the pains in my body have left me, and I can see much clearer than before. My kidneys don't give me the trouble they did before I began taking Trutona, and I simply can't get enough to eat at meal times. My constipation has left me, and at night I sleep like an infant. Yes, sir, Trutona has made a different man out of me and I can truthfully say that it is the best medicine I have ever taken in my whole life. I want the people of not only Marietta, but everywhere to know the good Trutona has done for a veteran like myself."

Trutona is now being introduced and explained in Xenia at Sayre & Hemphill's drug store.

PAYMENTS FOR PLANTS OF CITY ARE AUTHORIZED

City Auditor T. H. Zell was instructed to settle the payment for the plants of the Xenia Water Company in a motion passed by the City Commission at the meeting Thursday night.

Mr. Zell returned from Toledo Thursday, where he delivered $270,000 worth of water works bonds to Stacey and Braun, bond brokers, who were awarded the sale of the bonds by the commission some time ago. He returned with the check for the bonds and was instructed to immediately pay off the debt to the water company.

The bond issue was for $325,000, part of which was for the extension and improvement of the plants. Stacey and Braun, who deposited a certified check with the city as a guarantee of good faith, sent a request to the commission through Mr. Zell that the amount of the check be reduced as a favor to them, but the request was not complied with. The check was for three percent of the total bond issue of $325,000 and the company asked that since $270,000 worth of bonds had been delivered that the check be reduced to three percent of the remaining $55,000 worth of bonds.

A resolution transferring funds from one fund to another to take care of current expenditures, was passed by the commission. A resolution to remove interest and sinking fund levies on account of bonds issued prior to January 20, 1920, from all limitations of tax rates with the approval of the electors of the sub division was tabled pending investigation by the City Manager and the City Solicitor.

In delivering his report to the Commission City Manager Riddle presented a paving time schedule prepared by the engineers Smith and Foster, which shows just how much is accomplished each day by the contractor working for the city on the paving contracts.

Plans for the annual Memorial Day exercises will be finally decided upon at a meeting to be held in the meeting room of the G. A. R. in the basement of the Court House next Tuesday night.

At this time committees representing the different patriotic organizations will meet and discuss the plans for the affair. Committees from the G. A. R., the W. R. C., the American Legion, the Sons of Veterans and the Daughters of Veterans, will be present at the meeting.

G. A. R. TO REGULATE MEMORIAL DAY PLANS

Lida Keck Wiggins, society editor of the Springfield Sun, and noted Chautauqua lecturer, will deliver an address at Antioch College Chapel, May 18, for the benefit of the college library.

The lecture will be divided into two parts, the first being "Ten Little Poems and How They Grew," while the second part will be "Celebrities I Have Met and Interviewed." A musical program will also be furnished and an admission of 25 cents charged.

It is time to think of the summer suit for the very young man of the house. Here is a neat and rather pretty (but you must not let him hear you call it pretty) style. It is rather economical, too, for it combines two materials. If made at home that means that an old suit or two old suits can be made over into a new one. The little trousers button on to the waist, but a very mannish belt hides them. The little pockets will also please the masculine mind. Blue and white rayon silk makes this model.

DEATH OF WILLIAM DEAN HOWELLS, NOTED LITERARY MAN, IN HIS 84th YEAR.

Because of a fellow feeling on account of his old age, and because much of his life he had been an Editor, and because of perfect friendship, the death of William Dean Howells, at his home in New York, on Tuesday, was a cause of grief to me. He was a writer and had long been recognized as Dean of the lists in this country. We have seen the names of more than 100 of his books—a wonderful life work.

Mr. Howells was in the habit of passing the winters in Xenia, Ga., and three weeks ago, while there, he caught a cold that developed into influenza. He was taken to New York City to be near his son, John Meade Howells, architect, and daughter, Mildred. Both were with him when he died.

Besides his son and daughter, Mr. Howells is survived by sisters, Mrs. Achille Frechette, translator for the Canadian House of Commons, and Miss Aurelia Howells, also of Ottawa, a brother, S. D. Howells, of Washington.

I have had the honor of having had several short handwritten letters from Mr. Howells in the last few years. In one of these, knowing that I was a few years his senior in age, he wrote: "I shall soon be where you are. Can't you wait there for me? What's your hurry?" The following is an extract from the last one to me dated DeSoto Hotel, Savannah, Ga., February 1920: "My next birthday is March 1st, when I hope to be 84. It is not 88, (alluding to my age) but the best I can do. It is twenty years since I went up to Xenia, from 'New Leaf Mills' to type on the Torchlight, but was too homesick to stay."

According to this, he was only thirteen years old when he died. He tells about it in one of his books. He had agreed to stay two weeks, but at the end of one had to go home, as he was "too homesick to stay."

The family had been living in Dayton, where his father had been in a bookstore venture, and getting a brother to go, had gone out in the country, about a mile northeast from Xenia, built a grist mill and a log cabin, and because of turn-over a new leaf in life's adventure called his mill the "New Leaf Mill." This "adventure" lasted a year or two of very nervous existence on the part of his father's family, during which the boy had helped out on the old Xenia Torchlight, the editor of which, by accession in purchase, you are now reading from.

So, don't you see, Xenia Xcels in having once had as its residents several men accorded later on as literary geniuses, namely Reed, William Dean Howells and Coates Kinney.

Mr. Howells's mind must have been running much on old age, for it is only a few weeks since he gave us, in Harper's Magazine, a very charming article entitled "Eighty Years and Over"—full of sensible thoughts on how one may put in the later years of a long life without becoming pessimistic. But for years as been his regular occupation to give us his most delightful "Easy Chair" in Harper's Magazine. We shall greatly miss this, we shall feel that something greatly worthwhile has been lost out of life.

William Dean Howells married Elinor G. Mead, of Vermont, 1862, in Paris. For a while after his return to this country he lived in New York, contributing regularly to The Nation, and occasionally to the New York Tribune and Times. But this was a short period, as in 1866 he went to Boston as associate editor of the Atlantic Monthly, under J. T. Fields, and in 1872, when Fields retired, became editor until the spring of 1880, when resigned to have more time for writing. In 1912 Mr. Howells left of his connection with the "House of Harper" as editor, literary adviser and contributor.

William Dean Howells was a most voluminous writer. We counted a list of over fifty books of his authorship. In early life he lived at Cambridge and there became acquainted with noted literary men, Emerson, Hawthorne, Holmes and Lowell through their influence was given the Counselship at Cambridge, which he held through the Civil War period. This made like foreign life and he spent many years in Europe.

Mr. Howells's grandfather, Joseph Howells, a Welsh weaver, his grandmother, an English Quakeress who kept her faith in her customs, in spite of her repudiation by the Quakers when married "out of meeting," left the little Welsh village of Hay 1808 for America. With them was their baby son, William Dean Howells, William Dean's father. After roving about through New York state and Virginia a little they finally settled in Ohio. That Quaker grandmother was, so far as is known, the best and finest of Mr. Howells's antecedents in the way of education and innate interest in literature and arts. She taught her son to read before he was four years old, and it was very probably due in some part to her that he became a printer, editor and owner of newspapers, as well as an Abolitionist.

Perhaps the most remarkable thing of all about Mr. Howells is that one never thought of him as a survival of the past, a remnant of America's early days, a friend of Lincoln's, but as a man and important part of the present. The adventures of William Dean Howells's mind within the last month or two were always of greater interest than any older adventures, whose chief charm might lie in their quaintness and their age, could have been. "I don't seem able to get very far away from today," he said once when asked why he did not more often use early experiences in his books.—J. P. C.

GIANT MOTOR FLEET WILL REACH XENIA MAY TWENTY SECOND

Dayton, O., May 13.—Plans have been completed here for the trip of the giant fleet of 60 trucks, adver- tising the ship by truck plan, which will travel day and night for four days out of Dayton, and will make Xenia on May 22.

The trains of trucks will be bril- liantly lighted at night. They will assemble at Carromonte Dayton, leav- ing there Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock, in charge of F. S. Crispin, while other members of the commit- tee are H. A. Ailer, F. R. Vanniman and George J. Shaffer.

Wednesday, the truck fleet will make Miamiburg, Franklin and Mid- dletown; Thursday the fleet will visit Gratis, Eaton, Arcanum and Green- ville; Friday, the train will make Bradford, Covington, Piqua, Troy and Springfield, and Saturday will make Cedarville, Xenia, and then return to Dayton.

One hundred other cities of the United States will observe the special week, which begins Monday. In Dayton, a parade of 1,000 trucks will be held Tuesday, starting at 12:30 o'clock.

Good roads talks will be given at all the places where the truck fleet stops and a big time is anticipated at Springfield, where a vaudeville show will be staged by a manufac- turer and some of the Springfield dealers.

FORMER RECTOR OF CHURCH IN XENIA MAY GET POSITION

News dispatches yesterday carried a story from Seattle, regarding the murder of the Rev. A. R. Heare, Epis- copal missionary at Point Hope, Alas- ka, 175 miles north of Nome, by his 18 year old assistant, James McGuire, on April 27. McGuire's father, James McGuire, sr., placed the lad under ar- rest and started with him for Can- ale, 150 miles south, where a deputy marshal has an office. James Mc- Guire is believed to have been insane, the dispatch said.

The Rev. William H. Thomas, former rector of Christ Episcopal church, here, who has been in Alaska, several years as a missionary, was filling the Rev. Mr. Heare's place at Point Hope, while the latter was tak- ing a vacation, it was known to friends of the missionary here. It is believed that he will perhaps be given the post permanently, and this fact may interfere with his expected tur- nough during the coming summer.

BUG-OLGY What do you call them?

Bedbug (Cimex lectularius). The origin of the name bedbug is unknown, but is supposed to be naturally suggested as it is descriptive. There are many local names for these parasites, as for illustration, around Boston they are called "Chinches," from Baltimore comes the name "Mahogany Flat," in New York they are styled as "Red Coats," around Pittsburgh they are called "Peaky Devils," in Cincinnati and the South "Night- riders," in St. Louis and Chicago district "Crimson Ramblers," the great West "Pilgrims" and the old saying, "the bedbug has no teeth, but they get there just the same," is correct. Instead of teeth they possess a piercing and sucking beak to draw and rob you of your blood for their own body. Bedbugs, no matter what you may call them, or where they came from, science has found a way to rid them if you will use faithfully the new chemical Peaky Devils Quicker "P. D. Q." A 35c package makes one quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas, ants or cooties, and their eggs as well. P. D. Q. will not injure bedding, and each package contains a patent spout to enable you to get them in the hard-to-get-at places. Impossible for Peaky Devils to exist where P. D. Q. is used.

ITCHING, BURNING SKIN DISEASES

Are Caused by Poisoned Blood.

Authorities are now of the opinion that many forms of eczema and eruptive skin diseases are caused by humors in the blood. This state of the blood may be due to irregular habits, improper action of the liver, kidneys, stomach or some contracted blood disease. Internal treat- ment that goes directly to the root of the trouble—is the most depend- able means of getting a real relief.

Such a treatment is Prescription C-2223, a reliable blood purifier. This splendid medicinal preparation was used for years by a successful physician in his private practice. It produced such satisfactory results for his patients and has since relieved so many thousands that it's possi- ble that it will give you relief.

If you are now suffering the tor- tures of burning, itching eczema, or any eruptive skin disease, and all other medicines and doctors have failed, go to your druggist and get a $1.50 bottle of Prescription C2223. If two bottles do not give you suf- ficient benefit to justify your con- tinuing the treatment, take the em- pties back to the same druggist and get the $3.00 that you paid for the prescription.

While taking Prescription C-2223, the bowels should act regularly, to help throw off the poisons which are causing you trouble. There is nothing better than 2223 Liver Pills. They have certain tonic effects and do not sicken or gripe. One is a dose.

If your druggist will not supply you with Prescription C-2223 and 2223 Liver Pills, both will be sent you postpaid on receipts of $1.75. Suppose you write the 2223 Labora- tory, Memphis, Tenn., 132 South Second St., for literature, 1920 Al- manac and sample of the Pills.

K-GOVERNOR WILL DELIVER ADDRESS TO ALPHA SCHOOL

Dr. M. E. G. Brumbaugh, ex-governor of Pennsylvania, will preach the commencement sermon to the graduating class of Beaver Creek township high school, next Sunday afternoon, May 15, at 2 o'clock at the Knights of Pythias hall Alpha.

The presence of ex-governor Brumbaugh will be of unusual interest and school authorities extend a welcome to everyone to the service.

The high school commencement will take place Wednesday evening, May 9, at 8 o'clock at the K. of P. hall Alpha, when the class will present a play entitled, "Valley of the Sun." The play will be delivered to the following graduates: Mary Smart, Orlis Hart, Lucinda Caskey, Dorothy Greer, Ruth Lane, Lawrence Brill, Homer Brill, Herman Williamson, Benjamin Robertson, Raymond Hanes.

Mass day exercises of the Beaver Creek township schools will be held Friday, May 21, at the same place. A pageant will be given in the morning, commencing about 9:30, and eighth grade promotion exercises will take place at 1:15. The school exhibit will be held at the high school building. Dinner will be served by the Grange.

GIANT MOTOR FLEET WILL REACH XENIA MAY TWENTY SECOND

Dayton, O., May 13.—Plans have been completed here for the trip of the giant fleet of 60 trucks, advertising the ship by truck plan, which will travel day and night for four days out of Dayton, and will make Xenia on May 22.

The trains of trucks will be brilliantly lighted at night. They will assemble at Carmonite Dayton, leaving there Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock, in charge of F. S. Crispin, while other members of the committee are H. A. Ailer, F. R. Vanniman and George J. Shaffer.

Wednesday, the truck fleet will make Miami, Franklin and Middletown; Thursday the fleet will visit Gratis, Eaton, Arcanum and Greenville; Friday, the train will make Bradford, Covington, Piqua, Troy and Springfield, and Saturday will make Cedarville, Xenia, and then return to Dayton.

One hundred other cities of the United States will observe the special week, which begins Monday. In Dayton, a parade of 1,000 trucks will be held Tuesday, starting at 12:30 o'clock.

Good roads talks will be given at all the places where the truck fleet stops and a big time is anticipated at Springfield, where a vaudeville show will be staged by a manufacturer and some of the Springfield dealers.

FORMER RECTOR OF CHURCH IN XENIA MAY GET POSITION

News dispatches yesterday carried a story from Seattle, regarding the murder of the Rev. A. R. Heare, Episcopal missionary at Point Hope, Alaska, 175 miles north of Nome, by his 18 year old assistant, James McGuire, on April 27. McGuire's father, James McGuire, sr., placed the lad under arrest and started with him for Canale, 150 miles south, where a deputy marshal has an office. James McGuire is believed to have been insane, the dispatch said.

The Rev. William H. Thomas, former rector of Christ Episcopal church, here, who has been in Alaska, several years as a missionary, was filling the Rev. Mr. Heare's place at Point Hope, while the latter was taking a vacation. It was known to friends of the missionary here. It is believed that he will perhaps be given the post permanently, and this fact may interfere with his expected furlough during the coming summer.

WILL INCORPORATE COOPERATIVE ELEVATOR

The new cooperative elevator at Fairfield will be incorporated at a meeting which is to be held Thursday night, at which Charles N. Latschaw will also take part in Mr. Latschaw will be present. The Rev. William H. Thomas, former rector of Christ Episcopal church, here, who has been in Alaska, several years as a missionary, was filling the Rev. Mr. Heare's place at Point Hope, while the latter was taking a vacation. It was known to friends of the missionary here. BUG-OLOGY What do you call them?

Bedbug (Cimex lectularius). The origin of the name bedbug is unknown, but is supposed to be naturally suggested as it is descriptive. There are many local names for these parasites, as for illustration, around Boston they are called "Chinches," from Baltimore comes the name "Mahogany Flat," in New York they are styled as "Red Coats," around Pittsburgh they are called "Pesty Devils," in Cincinnati and the South "Night-riders," in St. Louis and Chicago district "Crimson Ramblers," the great West "Pirates." The old saying, "the bedbug has no teeth, but they get there just the same," is correct. Instead of teeth they possess a piercing and sucking beak to draw and rob you of your blood for their own body. Bedbugs, no matter what you may call them, or where they came from, science has found a way to rid them if you will use faithfully the new chemical Peaky Devil Quietus "P. D. Q." A 35c package makes one quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas, ants or cockroaches, and their eggs as well. P. D. Q. will not injure bedding, and each package contains a patent sprout to enable you to get them in the hard-to-get-at places. Impossible for Peaky Devils to exist where P. D. Q. is used.

ITCHING, BURNING SKIN DISEASES

Are Caused by Poisoned Blood.

Authorities are now of the opinion that many forms of eczema and eruptive skin diseases are caused by humors in the blood. This state of the blood may be due to irregular habits, improper action of the liver, kidneys, stomach or some contracted blood disease. Internal treatment that goes directly to the root of the trouble—is the most dependable means of getting a real relief.

Such a treatment is Prescription C-2223, a reliable blood purifier. This splendid medicinal preparation was used for years by a successful physician in his private practice. It produced such satisfactory results for his patients and has since relieved so many thousands that it's possible that it will give you relief.

If you are now suffering the tortures of burning, itching eczema, or any eruptive skin disease, and all other medicines and doctors have failed, go to your druggist and get a $1.50 bottle of Prescription C-2223. If two bottles do not give you sufficient benefit to justify your continuing the treatment, take the empties back to the same druggist and get the $3.00 that you paid for the prescription.

While taking Prescription C-2223, the bowels should act regularly, to help throw off the poisons which are causing you trouble. There is nothing better than 2223 Liver Pills. They have certain tonic effects and do not sicken or gripe. One is a dose.

If your druggist will not supply you with Prescription C-2223 and 2223 Liver Pills, both will be sent you postpaid on receipts of $1.75. Suppose you write the 2223 Laboratory, Memphis, Tenn., 132 South Second St., for literature, 1920 Almanac and sample of the Pills.

NEW SANITARY CODE FOR STATE PROPOSED BY COMMISSIONER

Columbus, O., May 14.—The state health department's advisory council today is expected to take action on the proposal of State Health Commissioner Freeman that it accept a new sanitary code drawn up by him. This proposed code provides for dispensing with gaseous disinfection, or fumigation, following communicable diseases, except smallpox cases.

The proposed code, which if adopted will be filed with Secretary of State Smith and will become effective as law July 1, provides, however, for the continuance of concurrent disinfecting during illness and for a continuation of such safety measures following recovery from sickness, as cleansing of property, washing with soap and water, wall paper cleaning, etc.

Other provisions of the proposed code relate to reporting of diseases, control of social diseases, transportation of bodies, medical inspection in schools, tuberculosis hospitals, maternity hospitals, ice cream soda stands and regulation of barber shops, manicurists and chiropodists.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a divorced woman and have a son seventeen years old. I am going with a gentleman who wants to marry me. In fact we are engaged. My former husband insists on coming to my house. He says he comes to see the boy and still I know he thinks a lot of me.

The man I am engaged to doesn't say anything, but I can see that he doesn't like it. Do you think there is any harm in letting them both come to the house?

Do you think people will talk about me for letting them both come? What would you do in the matter? I like the man I am engaged to very much and only think of my former husband as a friend.

It seems to me that the way out of your difficulties would be to marry the man to whom you are engaged. It is only natural that he should object to the calls from your former husband.

Since your son is seventeen years old, there is no reason why he and his father could not meet away from home. Tell the boy's father that he must discontinue his calls. The fact that he still cares for you is reason enough that you should cease to see him.

You asked if people would talk? There is possibility that they will. Do what you know is right, however, and do not waver because of what gossips will say.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am going with a young man of twenty-two. I am eighteen and have kept company with him for two months. He is considered very good looking and is popular with the younger set.

My father doesn't like him and so I can't entertain him on Sunday nights. Every time he asks me for a date I make some excuse. Shall I tell him why I cannot entertain him, or what shall I do?

SWEET BUNCH OF DAISIES.
Tell the young man that your father does not want him to come

Sunday nights. It will not be necessary to explain why.

Your father's objections to the young man may be well-grounded. The fact that he is good looking and popular does not recommend him. The qualities of his character are what count. Your father may feel instinctively that he will not amount to a great deal. Be tolerant of your father's views and cautious in the extent of your friendship with the young man.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a very nice ring which was given me by a cousin who passed away the first of the year. She was such a noble woman that I dearly loved her and I prize the ring.

It is too large for my fingers, except the forefinger on my left hand. I am afraid of losing it if I wear it on any of my other fingers. Would it be proper to wear it on the forefinger of my left hand?

I have a small opal ring which fits the ring finger. AUBURN HAIR.
You can get a little ring guard which will hold it in place so that it will fit a smaller finger without having the ring itself changed in the least. To wear the ring on the forefinger would be too conspicuous and therefore not in good taste.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl twenty years of age. I have been keeping company with a young man of twenty-one for two years. We have been engaged for four months. He has never given me a ring, and many of my girl friends think this is strange as he can well afford to give me a ring.

This bothers me when out in company, for almost everyone around here knows of our engagement. Should I tell him how I feel about the ring and ask him for one?

WORRIED.
You are certainly entitled to the ring. Since the young man is thoughtless and does not get you one, tell him that you would like one.

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a divorced woman and have a son seventeen years old. I am going with a gentleman who wants to marry me. In fact we are engaged. My former husband insists on coming to my house. He says he comes to see the boy and still I know he thinks a lot of me.

The man I am engaged to doesn't say anything, but I can see that he doesn't like it. Do you think there is any harm in letting them both come to the house?

Do you think people will talk about me for letting them both come? What would you do in the matter? I like the man I am engaged to very much and only think of my former husband as a friend.

It seems to me that the way out of your difficulties would be to marry the man to whom you are engaged. It is only natural that he should object to the calls from your former husband.

Since your son is seventeen years old, there is no reason why he and his father could not meet away from home. Tell the boy's father that he must discontinue his calls. The fact that he still cares for you is reason enough that you should cease to see him.

You asked if people would talk? There is possibility that they will. Do what you know is right, however, and do not waver because of what gossip will say.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am going with a young man of twenty-two. I am eighteen and have kept company with him for two months. He is considered very good looking and is popular with the younger set. My father doesn't like him and so I can't entertain him on Sunday nights. Every time he asks me for a date I make some excuse. Shall I tell him why I cannot entertain him, or what shall I do?

SWEET BUNCH OF DAISIES.
Tell the young man that your father does not want him to come

Sunday nights. It will not be necessary to explain why.

Your father's objections to the young man may be well-grounded. The fact that he is good looking and popular does not recommend him. The qualities of his character are what count. Your father may feel instinctively that he will not amount to a great deal. Be tolerant of your father's views and cautious in the extent of your friendship with the young man.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a very nice ring which was given me by a cousin who passed away the first of the year. She was such a noble woman that I dearly loved her and I prize the ring.

It is too large for my fingers, except the forefinger on my left hand. I am afraid of losing it if I wear it on any of my other fingers. Would it be proper to wear it on the forefinger of my left hand?

I have a small opal ring which fits the ring finger. AUBURN HAIR.

You can get a little ring guard which fits on the inside of the ring. This will hold it in place so that it will fit a smaller finger without having the ring itself changed in the least. To wear the ring on the forefinger would be too conspicuous and therefore not in good taste.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl twenty years of age. I have been keeping company with a young man of twenty-one for two years. We have been engaged for four months. He has never given me a ring, and many of my girl friends think this is strange as he can well afford to give me a ring.

This bothers me when out in company, for almost everyone around here knows of our engagement. Should I tell him how I feel about the ring and ask him for one?

WORRIED.
You are certainly entitled to the ring. Since the young man is thoughtful and does not get you one, tell him that you would like one.

SPEED REGULATIONS DRAW FIRE IN CITY COMMISSION MEETING

The new city speed regulations announced by City Manager Riddle, draw fire at the commission meeting Thursday night, when members of the body declared they believed the new regulations too lenient.

On recommendation of the commission it was decided to abide by the state speed law, which provides for a 15 mile an hour limit in the business section, a 20 mile limit in the residential district and 30 miles outside the corporation limit.

The commission meeting Thursday night was recessed until Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

COURT REFUSES TO TAKE CASE AGAINST CLERK

Holding that the court of common pleas had jurisdiction to dismiss the relator from office, the Court of Appeals, in a decision which was received here Friday, dismissed the quo warranto suit which was brought by former Clerk of the Courts George W. Sheets in an effort to oust his successor Charles S. Johnson from office, and to be re-instated in that position himself.

The case was submitted to the Court of Appeals in Springfield Monday. The text of the decision follows:

"The relator, who was removed from the office of Clerk of the Courts by the Court of Common Pleas, seeks to be re-instated on the grounds that the order of removal was invalid.

"Article 10, Section 6 of the Constitution provides:

"Justice of the peace, and county and township officers may be removed in such manner and for such cause as shall be prescribed by law."

"Section 3056 G. C. provides:

"Any clerk who neglects to comply faithfully with the requirements of Sections 3032 to 3033 inclusive, and the duties therein enjoined upon him, shall not only be subject to the penalties now imposed by law, but may be removed from office at the discretion of the court."

"No special formality is provided by statute from removal of the clerk."

"The relator's office was examined by John A. Bliss, state examiner, who made a report showing a malfeasance in office and a violation of one of the sections above referred to. This report was made in writing to the judge of the Court of Common Pleas. The record shows that the relator was notified and appeared in court before said judge. The report of said examiner thereupon read to the relator, and the court proceeded to find and declare that the said relator be removed from office for failure to comply with the provisions of Section 3032 G. C. Even if a formal procedure were required, we think the findings of the state examiner constituted the charges upon which said relator was required to stand trial, and having been notified, and having appeared in court, the fair presumption from the record is that he had an opportunity to offer his defense.

"We think the Court of Common Pleas had jurisdiction to order the removal, and the presumption, in the absence of a bill of exceptions, is that the evidence justified the finding and judgment. We find no such irregularity in the proceedings as would divest the Court of Common Pleas of jurisdiction of the subject matter and of the person of the relator.

"It follows that the petition in quo warranto should be dismissed."

SCHOOL PLAY PLEASES AUDIENCE

"The College Town" was presented to a large and appreciative audience at the Opera House Thursday night by the members of the Junior Class of Central High School.

The play more than lived up to the advance notices and was chuck full of clever lines and humorous and embarrassing situations and was not devoid of dramatic ability. The cast all carried their parts well and acted easily and naturally with an absence of the affected style so common to amateur productions. Miss Coffin who directed the play deserves much credit for the successful manner in which it was presented.

GAINED 15 POUNDS IN THREE WEEKS BY TAKING DRECO

Formerly had to get up so many times during the night felt like not going to bed at all.

Since Dreco took hold on him he sleeps all night long.

"It is great to feel strong again so that you don't have to walk with a cane to support you," declared Mr. S. X. Paulk, Co. 25, National Military Home, Dayton, O.

"My strength has gone up 75% and I have gained fifteen pounds in weight in the last three weeks since I've taken Dreco. One thing that kept me weak was getting up so many times during the night with my kidneys and breaking my rest. It got so bad that I felt that there wasn't any use of going to bed at all."

"Three bottles of Dreco got me where I could walk a couple of miles without getting tired. I can climb stairs without getting short-winded at all. I don't take cold like I used to, even on sudden changes of the weather. Dreco is great medicine, and I know a lot of my comrades out here who are taking it purely on the record of what it did for me."

Dreco has been called "The Ideal Tonic," both for old and young. It builds up the whole system so that Nature resists many things that otherwise we would suffer from.

Dreco aids digestion, gives strength to the kidneys, rouses a lazy liver, overcomes constipation, banishes rheumatism, increases the appetite and induces sound sleep.

All good druggists now sell Dreco and it is being specially introduced in this city by

DODDS PRESENTS PLAT OF A NEW SECTION HERE

A plot of a new section of the Dodds subdivision, involving about 200 lots and about 100 acres of land, was presented for the approval of the City Commission by Frank W. Dodds at the meeting of the commission Thursday night.

The plat is Plat No. 2, of the Dodds addition, and is laid out north of the area to be donated to the city for a park and north of the Cox Lierz orial Athletic Field, donated to the Board of Education by Mr. Dodds. Streets are provided for in the new plat, part of which lies inside the corporate limits of the city.

The plat was looked on favorably by the commission, but at the suggestion of the City Manager, which was agreed to by Mr. Dodds, an agreement will be drawn up between the latter and the city, whereby conditions in the new addition regarding the laying of sewers, water mains in other utilities, will be provided for in the sale of the lots. The commission instructed the Manager and Solicitor to draw up the agreement with Mr. Dodds, who stated that he would sign any agreement to safeguard the city's interests.

The matter of the extension of the corporation limits which will take in a larger part of the Dodds tract, and which was to have come up before the County Commissioners some time ago and was postponed, will be brought up again May 18, and members of the City Commission were reminded to be present at that meeting.

E. H. Heathman, manager of the Dayton Power & Light Company in this city, presented a request to be permitted a right of way on the ground owned by the city near the stand pipe to build a transformer substation, and the matter was turned over to the manager and the solicitor to work out an agreement with Mr. Heathman regarding the permit.

LAST RITES HELD FOR C. L. MAXWELL

The funeral of the late C. L. Maxwell took place from St. John's A. M. E. church of this city Thursday afternoon at 1:30.

Services were conducted by the pastor, Dr. P. A. Nichols, invocation by Dr. Mills of Piqua, Ohio, and Rev. T. D. Scott, pastor of North Street Church, Springfield, Ohio, delivered the sermon.

Those from a distance attending the funeral were: Frank Miller, M. D., Wichita, Kan.; Dr. E. P. Clemmons and wife, William Brown, Dayton Ohio; Dewitt Maxwell, Logansport, Ind.; Leon Maxwell, Indianapolis, Ind.; Rev. J. P. Maxwell, Lancaster, Ohio; Mrs. T. D. Scott, Springfield, Ohio; Perry Parker, Cincinnati, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Edw. F. Maxwell, Philadelphia, Pa.; Fred Jones, Paulding, Ohio; Miss Mamie Maxwell, Louisville, Ky.; C. F. Maxwell, Spencer, Ind., and George Upthegrove, Dayton, Ohio.

PROTESTS AGAINST SPEED ENFORCEMENT STILL CONTINUE

Unfair criticism of the way this city enforced the speed laws last year, based on misinformation given out mostly by chagrined motorists arrested, caused a flood of protest from automobile clubs and other organizations that has not stopped yet, according to City Manager Riddle.

The latest communication, according to a statement made to the city Commission Thursday night by R.M. Riddle, was from the secretary of the Bellefontaine Chamber of Commerce, who protested against the "way side courts" and "speed traps" which were claimed to have been in operation here last summer by the Cincinnati Automobile Club.

Commissioner C. S. Frazer, who is an ardent advocate of careful driving within the proper speed limit, advised the Manager to write the Bellefontaine organization to the effect that Xenia is operating under the state law and that motorists who do not care to comply with that law should drive their cars where that law is not respected.

DR. HARRY A. COSLER DIES IN OSBORN

Dr. Harry A. Cosler prominent Osborn physician, died at his home there Thursday morning at nine o'clock after a short illness. He had been able to continue his practice until a short time ago when he was suddenly stricken.

Dr. Cosler was born in this county, near Osborn, May 4, 1873, and was 47 years of age at the time of his death. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abram Cosler. When a young man he entered the Columbus School of Medicine from where he was graduated. He established his office in Osborn following his graduation and had since practiced there.

Dr. Cosler was a prominent Mason, and was also a member of the K. of P. and Odd Fellows. He leaves his wife, Emma, and one daughter, Miss Mary Cosler.

Funeral services will be held at the late residence Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

DODDS PRESENTS PLAT OF A NEW SECTION HERE

A plot of a new section of the Dodds subdivision, involving about 200 lots and about 100 acres of land, was presented for the approval of the City Commission by Frank W. Dodds at the meeting of the commission Thursday night.

The plat is Plat No. 2 of the Dodds addition, and is laid out north of the area to be donated to the city for a park and north of the Cox Memorial Athletic Field, donated to the Board of Education by Mr. Dodds. Tailor Makes Valuable Find

"After spending $300 for medicine and doctors in four years without getting any benefit for stomach trouble and bloating I was induced by my druggist to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and must say that a $1 bottle has done me $500 worth of good." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sayre & Hemphill and druggists everywhere.

BREADS.

White Bread—For sponge take one pint of the potato water that potatoes have been cooked in. Mash one potato in same and have it lukewarm. Break one cake of compressed yeast, add one tablespoon sugar, stir; let stand ten minutes, then stir in two pints flour. Let rise one hour in warm place, covered. Then mix into big loaf six pints flour; one tablespoon salt, one pint water; knead into a stiff loaf. Grease top, cover and set in a warm place to rise—two and one-half to three hours.

When light, knead a second time, grease top and let rise one hour, then mold into loaves and place in well greased pans. Grease top again and let rise for about one hour, then bake forty-five minutes.

When done remove from pans, wrap well in newspapers, several thicknesses, until cold, when the crust will not be hard. This makes four small loaves. Be sure and use spring wheat flour for bread baking.

Graham Bread—Molasses, one-quarter cup; brown sugar, one cup; one egg, salt, one teaspoonful; sour milk, two cups; soda, two teaspoonfuls in milk; graham flour, two cups.

wheat flour, one cup. Stir all together and bake slowly forty-five minutes.

Yeast Buns—One compressed yeast cake, one pint potato water; let stand fifteen minutes, then add one-half cup sugar, one teaspoonful salt, four enough to make a thin paste; let rise one hour. Then add one-half cup lard. Mix well with flour enough to roll.

Cut out, let rise and bake. These are fine to serve and can be made in a short time.

Hot Buns For Morning—One cup bread dough, one-half cup sugar, one cup lukewarm water, lard size of an egg.

Take out dough when bread is ready for loaves; put in cupboard in a bowl until 4 p. m., then mix all together; add flour to make a stiff dough (not as stiff as bread); let rise until 9 p. m.

Make into small cakes, leaving one-half the space to rise. Let rise until morning. Bake for breakfast. Makes twenty-five buns.

TESTED RECIPES.

Baked Chops—Prepare plain bread dressing. Into a deep baking dish slice as many potatoes as desired. To potatoes add one-third as many sliced onions or more if well liked. Season with salt and pepper. Cover with the bread dressing and lay seasoned pork chops on top. Add one pint of water and bake until potatoes are well done.

Rice With Cheese—Cover bottom of baking dish with cooked rice, wrap well in newspapers, several thicknesses, until cold, when the crust will not be hard. This makes four small loaves. Be sure and use spring wheat flour for bread baking.

White Sauce—One cup milk, two tablespoons butter, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Melt butter, add dry ingredients and mix over fire until smooth. Add milk gradually and stir until thick.

OHIO VETERANS TO MEET

Columbus, O., May 14.—Approximately 500 veterans are expected to come here today for the first annual reunion of the Ohio Rainbow Division Veterans. The reunion will last two days. Talks will be made by Governor James M. Cox, Brigadier General Benson W. Hough, who commanded the famous Ohio unit; Major George Geran and A. G. Brown, National Secretary of the Rainbow Veterans. Hough is National President of the veterans, having been elected while aboard ship on the return trip from France.

KAUFFMAN MAY ENTER RACE

Columbus, O., May 14.—Jacob Kauffman, head of the accounting of state offices in the department of Auditor of State and one of those who wrote the original Bureau of Accounting law, has been mentioned for the Democratic nomination for the position of Auditor of State, but he has so far failed to indicate his intentions in the matter. If he enters he will be the eighth candidate for the position.

STAPLE ARTICLES

A general reduction in the price of all merchandise with the exception of soap, sugar and butterine, announced by the Louis Traxler company of Dayton, coupled with the 20 percent cut announced by the John Wannamaker company of New York and Philadelphia, is considered significant.

The idea behind this movement is to create a breakwater against the high wage of costs," Mr. Traxler said. "It is an endeavor to stabilize the market. The movement in New York and Philadelphia has assumed large proportions."

"It is our hope that the broadside at rising costs will force open the eyes of manufacturers and speculators alike. We have bought in large quantities to obtain low prices and have paid cash to obtain additional concessions."

TWO OUT OF SIX JAIL

AKRON, May 14.—George Niehter and George Wagner, who with four others escaped from the county jail here early yesterday, were captured last night in Wadsworth, Niehter, who is under indictment for first degree murder, and Wagner declared they did not know where the other prisoners went. Both are being held at the Wadsworth jail.

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

JACK PRYOR PROPOSES

Chapter 11

We girls used to discuss marriage a good deal. I guess all girls do. It would have been amusing if anyone could have heard us, I am sure. We were all agreed upon one thing—we expected our husbands to be always in love with us, just as our respective fathers and mothers were. The girls in our set were fortunate in their parents. I know some girls who weren't. One or two at boarding school had to leave because their parents were divorced. It seemed dreadful! Now Father and Mother didn't always agree, but they were too well bred to quarrel, even if they did not think too much of each other.

"Your Mother and I have been very happy, Zena. I want my girl to be just as happy with the man whom she marries. That is why I tell you not to be in a hurry. It is a terrible thing to decide one's future hastily."

"How long did you and Mother know each other?"

"Practically all our lives. You see we lived in a small up-state town. There everyone knew everyone else—knew all about them at least. Your Mother and I lost sight of each other for a number of years. I went to college. She went to a girl's school. But we felt when we met again that we really knew all about each other—and so our courtship wasn't a long one. But in big cities, where one meets every Tom, Dick and Harry, but does not meet their families, one can't be too careful."

"But one doesn't marry the family, Dad."

"I am not so sure about that, dear. You marry the family influence, to a certain extent. It is well to know before one is bound, just what it may mean. To be acquainted with the family into which you are going, is often quite necessary. For no matter how we may pooh-hoo it, they often make life miserable for the newcomers."

"I didn't say so. I was beginning to learn to keep my thoughts to myself—sometimes even when talking to Dad—but I thought of what Kenneth had told me."

"I haven't a near relative in the world."

I had felt rather sorry for him then. Now I thought perhaps it was an added attraction. One wouldn't have to have a long engagement if they married him so they might find out about his family—whether they would make her welcome or not. Then I rather wondered whom he would marry. He had been very nice to Edith Wren. And to one or two other girls, and—to me. I blushed as I added myself to the list.

Jack Prior called one afternoon at tea time. Mother was out and I had not thought to say not to admit anyone, so Annie, the maid, let him in. I was writing a letter to Kenneth, and was terribly annoyed that I had forgotten to tell her I wasn't to be disturbed. That was what Mother always said, "She wasn't to be disturbed." I used many of Mother's expressions—they sounded better than those the girls, including myself, often used.

Well, Jack noticed I was distracted at once.

"Aren't you well, Zena?" he asked, with just the right amount of solicitude in his voice—just as he had shaken hands with his arm raised to put the right angle.

"Perfectly, thank you, why?"

"Oh, I thought you seemed a bit quiet and—different."

"One has to be serious occasionally."

"But you—you have nothing to make you serious."

"Oh, haven't I? A lot you know about it!" I was thinking of my unfinished letter. To write Kenneth Lawrence was to me a very serious matter, one requiring all my thought.

"I would know, if you would tell me."

"Have some tea, Jack?"

He sipped his tea in rather an absent-minded way, every little while looking at me over the rim of his cup in a perfectly ridiculous way. I couldn't imagine Kenneth Lawrence looking at a girl in that way.

"Zena, when are you going to marry me?" I jumped like a Jack-in-the-box, the question was so unexpected. "You know you will some day, so why not be a good girl and say when?"

"I haven't decided to marry anyone," I used my most freezing tones. But in my mind ran the thought: "Imagine Kenneth asking a girl to marry him in that cold-blooded fashion."

Tomorrow—Mrs. Stuart Pleads for Jack.

COUNTY AGENT ON
HUNT FOR BARBERRY
BUSH IN COUNTY

County Agent Ford S. Prince, is now being assisted by John W. Barlinger of Dayton, of the government agricultural service, in his battle against the barberry bush, deadly to wheat, in this county.

A farm to farm inspection is being made for the common form of barberry, either purple or green leaves. The canvass will be conducted on every road in the county and all shrubs and yard decorations will be closely examined to find traces of the barberry.

A canvass of Xenia township, resulted in some few bushes not seen before, being found and destroyed.

OSBORN GRAIN CO.
FORMS CO-OPERATIVE
ELEVATOR THURSDAY

The Osborn Cooperative Grain Company was formed at a meeting of farmers held in the Bath township high school at Fairfield Thursday night.

The company has applied for corporation papers in the sum of $50,000, and is preparing to erect a modern and fire proof elevator, warehouse and dryer on the new site of the railroad tracks. It is expected that the elevator will be built and ready for operation by harvest time.

The men interested in the new company are Fred Shellabarger, Ralph Funderburg, Ralph Dickman, M. L. Stewart and John Hower. A meeting of the stockholders will be held June 1 at which time the board of directors will be elected and plans laid for the operation of the company.

You Can't Rub It Away;
Rheumatism is in the Blood

Liniments Will Never Cure.

If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, why waste time with liniments, lotions and other local applications that never did cure Rheumatism, and never will?

Do not try to rub the pain away. Try the sensible plan of finding the cause of the pain, and go after that. Remove the cause, and you remove the pain.

You will never be rid of Rheumatism until you cleanse your blood of the germs that cause the disease. S. S. S. has never had an equal as a blood purifier and scores of sufferers say that it has cleansed their blood of Rheumatism, and removed all trace of the disease from their system.

Get a bottle of S. S. S., and get on the right treatment to-day. Special medical advice free. Address Medical Director, 111 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Women's Day. So let every woman be out and on time.

Prof. Leroy Harris of East Main street, has returned from a pleasant visit with friends in Louisville, Ky.

Several persons attended the funeral of Dr. Valadine Anderson, of Dayton, Thursday. Mrs. Anderson was well known here as she was a girl before marriage, Miss Abbie Ware. She has the sympathy of a host of friends and relatives.

Mr. Henry Johnson was called to Franklin, Thursday on account of the illness of his nephew. He will be there several days.

The many friends of Mr. Armon Curl of E. Main street, will be surprised to know that he was united in marriage April 29, to Miss Christina Morton, of Springfield. The couple will reside here for the present.

Mr. and Mrs. Strawder Liggins, of East Church street, received the intelligence that Mr. Liggins' father, Mr. Lucius Liggins, of Hilliards, O., was critically ill. He will leave for that place today.

COURT NEWS

The will of Joseph E. Eavey was admitted to probate Thursday. After making a bequest of $5,000 to his daughter, Mrs. Helen Davidson, to equalize a gift of personal property on the farm to his son, Herman, the testator leaves the residue of the estate to his wife during her lifetime. Afterward it is to be equally divided between the children.

An estimate of the value of the estate was not given. The will was executed April 9, a few days before the death of Mr. Eavey. The son and daughter are named as executors.

By the will of Mrs. Anna McCreery, which has been probated, the home and household goods are left to the daughter Eleanor, during her lifetime with the provision that the son Edward have a home there as long as he shall desire. After the death of the daughter, the property is to be divided equally among the children of the testator or the heirs of the deceased children. The will was executed July 27, 1915.

By the will of John W. Loe, late of Yellow Springs, the property is divided among his children, subject to the life estate of his wife Caroline Loe. Mrs. Loe is named as executor. The will was executed in 1911.

ELEVATOR THURSDAY

The Osborn Cooperative Grain Company was formed at a meeting of farmers held in the Bath township high school at Fairfield Thursday night.

The company has applied for incorporation papers in the sum of $50,000, and is preparing to erect a modern and fire proof elevator, warehouse and dryer on the new site of the railroad tracks. It is expected that the elevator will be built and ready for operation by harvest time.

The men interested in the new company are Fred Shellabarger, Ralph Punderburg, Ralph Dickman, M. L. Stewart and John Hower. A meeting of the stockholders will be held June 1 at which time the board of directors will be elected and plans laid for the operation of the company.

You Can't Rub It Away;
Rheumatism is in the Blood

Liniments Will Never Cure.

If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, why waste time with liniments, ointments and other local applications that never did cure Rheumatism, and never will?

Do not try to rub the pain away. Try the sensible plan of finding the cause of the pain, and go after that. Remove the cause, and you remove the pain. You will never be rid of Rheumatism until you cleanse your blood of the germs that cause the disease. S. S. S. has never had an equal as a blood purifier and scores of sufferers say that it has cleansed their blood of Rheumatism, and removed all trace of the disease from their system.

Get a bottle of S. S. S., and get on the right treatment to-day. Special medical advice free. Address Medical Director, 111 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

A FEELING OF SECURITY

You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit producing drugs. Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

The same standard of purity strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root. It is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs.

It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses.

It is not recommended for every-thing.

It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

If you need a medicine, you should have the best. On sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to try his great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Gazette or Republic.
